BROUGHT TO GRIEF BY DRINK.

W. F. HALL, THE TREASURER OF THE CASINO, TO BE SENT TO BLOOMINGDALE TO-DAY.

The many friends of Wellington F. Hall, the wellknown and much-liked treasurer of the Casino, will regret to learn that he indulged so freely in alcoholic stimulants recently that it has become necessary to place him under restraint temporarily. His mother, who was seen yesterday at their home, No. 1,158

Broadway, said: "My son worried himself very much about the affairs of the Casino at the time of the recent dis-sensions among the stockholders. He got into a very nervous state, and unfortunately sought relief in frink. Up to two years ago, when he had an attack of pneumonia, he had never used liquor. A little more than a fortnight ago, I became anxious about him. as he got little rest at night, and in his snatches of sleep was always talking excitedly about money and accounts. I went to Mr. Rudolph Aronson and told him my fears, and asked that he be relieved from duty for a time, as I feared he might make mistakes in handling so much money. Mr. Aronson said that only the day before my son had put up over ninety salaries without making a single error. They, howthe country. His desire for liquor increased, and yesterday I endeavored to have him placed in the Incuriate Home at Fort Hamilton, but the commit-ment papers I had procured were not quite regular bring him back. He is now here asleep. To-mor-row, under the advice of Dr. Maynard, I shall try o have him taken to Bloomingdale. There is every hope that with rest and restraint he will soon recover, as the habit has been so recently acquired." Albert Aronson said: "My brother and I thought Hall had gone into the country, till I saw him on Monday. We think very highly of him, and his services here have been most valuable. It has been ncorrectly stated that his accounts are confused and inaccurate. This is not the case: he left everything in order." Mr. Hall, though a young man, has had extensive business experience. He at one time was with the Havemeyers, and was afterward treasurer for Cornell Write's Rockaway steamers. After Mr. White's death Hall was employed by Rudelph Aronson at the Cosmopolitan, and has been with him in various capacities till the present time.

"THE HANDKERCHIEF BUSINESS." WHAT THE AMERICAN FLAG REPRESENTS IN THIS CAMPAIGN. To the Hattor of The Tribune.

Sir: The following paragraphs appeared in "The Washington Post* the other day:

The Republican party will never be able to induce the country to wipe its nose on the American flag.

The Democrats have very much the best of the handkerchief business.

The Democrats made a good move for their party here when they turned down the onl- Republican paper at the Capital of the Nation, and left it, a city with a quarter of a million of inhabitants, without a Republican journal to voice the sentiments of those holding that political faith. The paper from which the clipping is taken masquerades under the claim of an independent journal, and while doing so, gravely asserts that the bandanna, the emblem o treason and anarchy, is very much better as the wherewithal to wipe the nasal organ-Republican or Democratic —than the emblem which is decorated with the colors and flag of the Nation, and with the motto of "Protection to American Labor and American ndustries." That this journal should regard the American flag and mottoes on behalf of American Labor as fit only for wiping noses was to be expected, victory it can be suggestive of no such idea with any true American patriot; and borne in the hands of American workingmen, it will sweep the country from coast to coast, from the Northern line to the Mexican American workingmen, it will sweep the country from coast to coast, from the Northern line to the Mexican Gulf, in a grand victory for the party which will never be forgotten by the disciples of the "Ref Flag" and will be known to future generations as one of the sixteen decisive victories of the world; in fact, it will be the Waterloo of the Democratic party.

The paper which published the world, "The Republican party will never be able to induce the country to whipe its nose on the American flag," only showed how hard it was hit, and seemed to forget, or imagined the people had forgotten, that the Democratic party, or its adherents now in power, had done far more than wipe its nose on the flag of the Nation; that they had lifted the hand of freason and torn it from its rightful places; trailed it in the dust; endeavored to destroy it—its colors and its stars—and stained it deep with the blood of heroes and patriots. The whole issue of the coming campaign is in the emblem of the Republican party, and the Democratic party knows it, an issue given to the country by their own candidate, and one to whom they have pointed with pride as better than his party. If that be so, Heaven help the party: No man falk senses ever dreamed that the Republican handkerchief was ever gotten up for mere masal purposes; the bandanna has only that purpose and is useless and without meaning otherwise. The Republican party intends that each and every toller in this broad land shall have one, and when he gets it he will feel the thrill which every patriotic and loyal man feels when gazing upon the flag which protects him in his life, Riberty and property; keeps inviolable the safetty of his home, and makes him a man among the expenditures for two years. him in his life, liberty and property; keeps inviolable the sanctity of his home, and makes him a man among The motto over which this flag files promise him a fair day's pay for a fair day's work. told by it that his wages shall not be placed in competition with European labor and it points out to him a home and suitable clothing for himself and family, and education for his children, enabling them to aspire to any position within the gift of increasing millions of free people. All this and more this handkerchief promises the workingman if he will be only hourst, temperate and industrious. It is because the Democrats know this too well that they snear at the em-

This country has had free trade, and as a result manufactures died out, thousands of families were destitute of the necessaries of life, farm products did not bring enough to pay the interest on the mortgages and when sold under the hammer went begging for purchasers, real estate was a drug on the market (brick houses seling for a dollar apiece in the City of Philadelphia.) These are historical facts easily susceptible of proof and the writer is prepared to substantiate his statements. If this is the desideratum of the workingmen throughout this broad and smiling land they can be easily accommodated by marching to the polis under the bandanna and free trade banner next November; but no one can suppose they so desire. A VOLCANO OF PENT-UP ENTHUSIASM.

From The Salt Lake Tribune.

The great triumph this year does not promise to be Mr. Cleveiand's or Mr. Harrison's, but James G. Blaine's. When he returns, look out for such an ovation as no man ever received before, and when he starts out to give cheer to the cause of the party of which he has ever been champion; when it will be clear that he is reaching up for nothing, but rather bending down to do his country a favor; the grandest triumph that was ever given a Roman chieffain returning victorious from the wars, will be but as a fire cracker to the roas of a Krupp gun by comparison with the ovation that will be given Mr. Blaine.
